

Shawn Gab

Shawn Gab is the owner of Tri-Tech Manufacturing, an aerospace design, engineering and manufacturing company in Rapid City. He formerly served as a design engineer for Boeing Commercial Aircraft Group and holds a commercial pilot's license with Single Engine Land and Single Engine Sea designations.

Shawn is actively involved in the community as a Rapid City Economic Development Partnership past Chairman, Western Dakota Tech Foundation Vice President, Western Dakota Tech Industrial Advisory Board member, Youth & Family Services Board Member, Black Hills Regional Angel Fund member, and a Rapid City Regional Airport General Aviation Advisory Committee member. He is also a volunteer pilot for Angel Flight Central and an active member of Pennington County Search & Rescue.

Additionally, Shawn is a lifetime member of the national Aircraft Owners & Pilot Association, lifetime member of the national Experimental Aircraft Association, member of the national Air Safety Foundation, state member of the SD Pilots Association, and a local member of the Experimental Aircraft Association Chapter 39.

Shawn is currently and member of the Airport Board of Directors and has been on the board since 2013.

Email address: Shawn.Gab@rcgov.org